

With whom we share your personal data

Your personal data is mainly processed by EPFL central services or faculties, but we may also share your personal data with certain suppliers or subcontractors acting on our behalf for operational or analytical reasons (for example, IT suppliers).

We may also share your personal data with third parties and authorities when required by applicable laws and when necessary to defend our rights or to protect your vital interests or those of another person.

To provide you with enhanced online services, we may integrate third party services such as streaming services (YouTube, Vimeo and SwitchTube) and social networks (Twitter, Instagram and Facebook). These service providers may collect and process personal data as data processors. We invite you to refer directly to the terms and privacy policies of these providers.
